

Alegro Alfragide

A high-quality project in one of the country's most important commercial centers

For the first Alegro branded shopping center, Immochan chose Engexpor to manage the project and construction and to coordinate the installation of shopkeepers at the development, which emerged from the conversion and expansion of the old Galeria do Jumbo.

With a diversified range that covers all types of stores, Alegro Alfragide stands out for its architectural and construction quality in a strongly consolidated commercial area that contains various medium-sized and large units of domestic and international fame.

Designed by renowned architect Sua Kay, the architecture project takes full advantage of the location, especially the view of Monsanto, with a huge glass window installed in the food court. The whole project was designed and built according to a sustainable development policy.

Its catchment area covers some of the counties with the highest purchasing power in Portugal – Lisbon, Oeiras and Cascais , which has also been a key factor in its success.
