

Almada Fórum

Iconic project is a landmark in the Lisbon area

The biggest shopping centre to the South of Lisbon and one of the biggest in Portugal, the Almada Forum is a recognised benchmark in the country's shopping centre segment, standing out for its design, quality construction standards and prestigious offer.

Its innovative architectural design, featuring themed lobbies, has earned the Almada Forum the recognition of several international players, while its strategic location, size and performance have turned it into an extremely attractive asset to international investors.

Engexpor was responsible for managing construction works and coordinating shop installation at the Almada Forum.
