

Evolution Office

A modern and functional workspace

Evolution – a leading Swedish multinational supplier of IT solutions for the online gaming industry – has installed in Lisbon one of the company’s largest software development centres internationally, aimed at creating a new generation of games.

The new unit occupies the entirety of a 3-story building with 1,300 m² on Avenida 24 de Julho and Engexpor was responsible for managing the work of the fit-out of this workspace, which included an interior design and execution by Savills.

For three months, Engexpor supervised the construction, helping to shape a modern, innovative and creative work environment, where mural art at the entrance or the unique wallpaper in meeting rooms, kitchens, and toilets. The vegetation is another element that stands out in all the office spaces, which also included the creation of an auditorium, games room, library, and roof terrace.

Openspace areas were favored making the office functional and adapted to new ways of working, such as collaborative or individual workspaces, rooms for small informal meetings, and phonebooths for phone calls or conference calls.
