New hotel plays an important role in revitalizing Lisbon's city center

In the heart of Lisbon, specifically at the Avenida António Augusto de Aguiar and Fontes Pereira de Melo intersection, a new hotel has been built, offering top quality in a strategic spot in the capital, next to Marquês de Pombal.

The new hotel offers the city and its visitors 240 rooms, a restaurant, a bar-lounge and a rooftop with sweeping views of Lisbon, meeting rooms and a conference center with capacity for up to 550 people, in addition to a Wellness Center. All this in a 14-floor building, which also has two levels of underground parking.

The project, designed by the architect João Paciência, blends architectural innovation with the highest quality standards in an iconic setting in the heart of Lisbon, breathing new life into land unoccupied for decades. The hotel plays an important role in revitalizing the Portuguese capital, one of the leading destinations for European tourism.

Management of the project and works was entrusted to Engexpor, with proven capacity and experience in hotel and tourism endeavors.
