

Pine Cliffs Hotel

Renovation accentuates the unique character of the resort's biggest icon

Inaugurated in 1992 as the Sheraton Algarve, the renovated Pine Cliffs Hotel maintains traditional Arabic architecture, where Portuguese history is told through murals and hand-painted tiles. These elements can also be admired in the 215 modern rooms with plentiful natural light, now fully renovated and with spectacular views to be enjoyed from private balconies.

An iconic symbol of the resort, the hotel upholds its reputation as a genuinely Portuguese home, making it the destination of choice for travelers seeking a memorable vacation.

As well as the rooms, the renovation we accompanied during the project and works management phase breathed new life into many other spaces. This included conference rooms, the reception and lounge, stores, the Além Mar restaurant and the Corda restaurant – where a new kitchen has been built –, indoor swimming pool and the construction of a new gym, as well as work on a broad range of facilities and amenities, including the elevators.
